A notable entertainment, perfect in every detail and marked by the freshness and interest which characterized the first parties of the season, was the debutante dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht Marburg last night at Steinberg's for their daughter, Miss Helene Marburg, the sister, Miss Margaret Jettmore, and their niece, Miss Helen Gardenhire of New York city. The decorations were out of the ordinary, the company was large and fashionably representative and there were more beautiful women and girls and good looking new gowns than have graced a dance in Topeka for a long time. Mrs. Marburg was in a magnificent toilet of Duchesse lace over crepe de chine and chiffon handsomely fashioned. She wore diamond ornaments and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Marburg wore a charming empire frock of barred pale blue crepe de chine with a pattern of tiny pink rose buds, combined with bands of pale blue messaline, gold and lace and white braid, and inset with oblique medallions of white satin. Her bouquet was of American Beauty roses and she wore pale blue gloves and shoes and an exquisite imported lace scarf covered with sequins of solid silver. Miss Jettmore was in pink crepe de chine, trimmed with silk bands, lace and dotted net made on a modified empire model. Her gloves and shoes matched her gown and she carried a round bouquet of violets with a pink rosebud in the center bordered with maiden hair fern. Miss Gardenhire wore a gown of Renaissance lace over tulle and carried a bouquet of violets and maiden hair fern. There were many other attractive debutantes at the dance, among them Miss Helen Shurtz, Miss Margaret Minney, Miss Helen Lindner, Miss Mary Sutherland, Miss Sue Rodgers, Miss Isobel Heath, Miss Hazel Howe, Miss Gladys Scott, Miss Eugenia Quinton, Miss Katharine Kelham, Miss Clara Fleischman, Miss Mary Dallas Gage, Miss Letta Rice, Miss Eva Bailey, Miss Helen Sterne, Miss Helen Haughey, Miss Anna Troutman, Miss Marie Ziegler of Independence and Miss Lucile Pollock, and a number of lovely young sub-boules, girls who are still in high school, but who are making their debut as debutantes as they looked in their simple, short dancing frocks, there were a number of grown-ups with whom they had to divide honors. Mrs. Norman Wear, always one of the most striking beauties in town, was particularly pretty last night in an empire-princess gown of white tulle net trimmed with heavy lace. Mrs. Margaret Wiegman was even more handsome than usual in a net gown of a peculiar shade of blue very becoming to her type, trimmed with ruchings of lace dyed to match and with a picture hat with blue plumes. Mrs. Mary Ann Weiskirch was really lovely in white chiffon over broad-based silk. Mrs. Augustus Zahner wore a stunning gown of old rose silk, on broad-based silk with touches of pale blue velvet. Mrs. C. G. Foster was handsomely attired in a blue and white striped silk with trimmings of lace and plumes. Mrs. David E. Palmer wore a beautiful gown of pink messaline trimmed with lace and embroidered braided silk. Mrs. B. B. Smythe was handsomely gowned in pale blue messaline. Miss Dorothy Wilson was in pale yellow messaline with a trimming of beautiful white lace embroidered in gold.

Quantities of white hydrangeas were used to adorn the ball room. They garlanded the pillars, embowered the door arches and were arranged in effective conventional designs as a mural decoration. The orchestra stall was screened with a wall of palms and there were bouquets of American Beauty roses. These flowers were also carried by all the assisting women and girls. The supper rooms were decorated with red and white carnations, the tables had centerpieces of ferns in wicker jardiniere. About two hundred and twenty-five invitations were extended and the assisting friends were Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Zahner, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Garvey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lininger, Mr. and Mrs. David Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wear, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Weiskirch, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dana, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kitchell, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jettmore, Miss Lillian Foster, Miss Bessie West, Miss Margaret Minney, Miss Helen Estey, Miss Mary Dallas Gage, Miss Alabelle Troutman, Miss Annabel Garvey, Miss Alice Meade, Miss Grace Sterne and Miss Helen Sterne.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

THE ORIGINAL REMEDY THAT KILLS THE DANDRUFF GERM

"Travelling as I do continuously, I have been troubled a great deal with dandruff and falling hair, and until I tried Herpicide I never found a remedy that was satisfactory. Herpicide is a delightful preparation that fulfills the claims made for it, and no lady's toilet is complete without it. I highly recommend it to my friends."

(Signed) ANNIE OAKLEY.

It is certainly significant that Miss Oakley, the celebrated rifle shot and theatrical star, who has travelled abroad, should choose Newbro's Herpicide as the most efficacious toilet remedy for the scalp. No one will doubt her opportunity to choose the best and those who have seen the natty and winsome Miss Oakley, will not doubt her power of discrimination in matters of this sort.

Newbro's Herpicide is a scientific germicide and prophylactic for the hair and scalp. It destroys the germ or microbe that causes dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, and which the hair will grow as nature intended, except in cases of incurable baldness. Extraordinary results sometimes follow the continued use of Newbro's Herpicide.

If your hair is dull, brittle or lustreless, don't wait until it begins to fall, but save and treat it with Newbro's Herpicide. In addition to its wonderful medicinal qualities, Newbro's Herpicide is the daintiest and most delightfully refreshing hair dressing available. The first application proves its goodness. Try it. Herpicide contains no grease, it will not stain or dye. STOPS ITCHING SCALP INSTANTLY.

At Drug Stores—Send 10 cents in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Dept. N, Detroit, Mich., for a Sample. Guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906. Serial No. 915.

NOTE—If any druggist suggests a substitute, walk out of his store and send the advertised price direct to us. We will immediately express the Herpicide direct to your door, all charges paid.

HELPED BUILD STATE HOUSE.

Now T. J. Henderson Is Sorry He Didn't Stay in Topeka.

A tall, broad shouldered, grey-haired colored man, wearing clerical garb, was standing in the main corridor of the east wing of the capitol building yesterday.

"I helped build this building," he said. "I plastered most of this main hall, here. That was my business—plastering. I did a lot of work around here. I must have been thirty years ago. I left Topeka in 1871, because I thought I could better myself by going some place else. But I guess I would have been better off to stay here. Topeka has grown into a fine town since I lived here."

The old man was T. J. Henderson, of Kansas City, Kan., he was in Topeka attending the Methodist conference which has been in progress for the past week.

ARE SAVING THE BULBS.

State House Gardener Has Adopted a New Policy.

A strange and bewildering policy of economy came to light of Ed Bass, the state house gardener, and his assistants commenced to dig up the plants and bulbs in the state house flower beds. They dug up the bulbs from the asters, and snapdragons, and hollyhocks, and lay everything away for use next year.

It has been customary in the past to summon in the populace at this season of the year, and allow anybody to dig up and carry off anything they pleased from the state house flower beds. The state didn't want them. Oh no, it could get more next year.

The new plan of campaign seems to be the joint invention of Ed Bass, the state house gardener, and Carl Vorhees, the state house custodian. Mr. Vorhees has been doing a number of things at the state house this year which have never been done before, and they all have tended to raise his standing as an efficient official. It was only natural that he should look with disfavor upon the old-fashioned plan of digging up the state house flower beds for nothing and allowing anybody to dig up and carry off anything they pleased from the state house flower beds.

Mr. Bass is the man who is largely responsible for the handsome appearance of the state house grounds during the past summer. Starting in last spring with a backward and unpromising spell of winter weather until late in May, he has struggled steadily through the season on about half the amount of money usually appropriated for flower beds, and has succeeded in producing some of the best results ever achieved about the state house. That portion of the state house grounds entrusted to his care has been well kept and tended by expert hands.

Meantime Mr. Bass has been building and gradually enlarging at his home in the suburbs of the city, a private greenhouse and nursery of no mean dimensions. The arrangement which has now been entered into between Mr. Bass and the state is that he shall take possession of all the plants which live over the winter, such as geraniums, and all bulbs and seeds, and shall give them proper care at his green house during the winter months. In the spring he is to provide the state with a fine charge with all the slips, cuttings, bulbs and seeds necessary to replant the state house flower beds, and receive for his compensation the surplus bulbs, and whatever increase he can secure from the other plants. It is a good arrangement both for the state and for Mr. Bass, for it will not only save the state hundreds of dollars next spring, but will stock Mr. Bass' green house, thereby giving him a fine garden for his own use.

As long as Carl Vorhees is custodian of the state house there is not likely to be anything much wasted, either in property or the time of the employer under his direction. And as long as Ed Bass is gardener, the state is certain to have good flower beds around its capitol building.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now 82 years old, arrives on Electric Bitter as writes W. B. Brunson of Dublin, Ga. 'She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, the electric bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, pin children, too, are greatly benefited by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists, 50c.'
